

At Williamsburg Animal Clinic, we provide a wide variety of veterinary services for your pet, at competitive rates. We offer preventative & internal medicine, surgery, dental care, and in-house diagnostics.

Preventative Medicine

Is keeping your healthy pet healthy. This involves regular exams, preventing diseases with vaccines, preventing both external & internal parasites and routine blood work to pick up on diseases before your pet becomes ill. We tailor vaccines to suit your pets' needs and discourage over vaccinating. Diet selection is important whether your pet is fat, thin or healthy weight, we can offer advice.

Internal Medicine

Our full-service hospital offers an in-house laboratory, radiology, and performs ultrasounds by appointment. We also work with external laboratories and have their internal medicine specialists available for consultations.

Surgery

Anesthesia is a concern to most; we use the safest protocols available and tailor them to your pets weight, condition, age and procedure. During anesthesia, your pet is being closely monitored. We perform both routine surgeries (ie spays, neuters) and more comprehensive procedures (ie. growth removals, amputations, etc). We offer some services separately, such as microchipping, while under anesthesia. We may refer some complicated cases to a specialist depending on your budget, as the price of surgery can vary dramatically.

Hospitalization

We offer hospitalization for certain conditions; the length of the care needed will determine if we can treat your pet. We recommend you contact us for visitation hours as they change daily. We are closed on Sundays, therefore, we cannot hospitalize patients over the weekend. In some cases, we may recommend your pet transfers to an emergency or 24 hour facility for further treatment. Travel directions and medical records will be provided.

Dental Services

With healthy pets, we discuss home dental care to prevent tartar build, gingivitis & bad breath. Anesthesia is typically required for a complete cleaning since pets typically do not cooperate in keeping their mouths open. In this procedure, we ultrasonically remove the tartar, clean under the gum line then polish & fluoride to treat the teeth. We try to save problem teeth if possible, but will extract teeth that need to be removed.

We are your family vet, caring for your pet!